(Editor) Aurora Australis. Published at the winter quarters of the British Antarctic expedition, 1907, during the winter months of April, May, June, July, 1908. Illustrated with lithographs and etchings: by George Marston.

Printed at the sign of 'The Penguins'; by Joyce and Wild.

Latitude 77° .. 32' South. longitude 166° .. 12' East, Antarctica:
(1908).

The leaves were punctured along their inner margin and secured with a silken cord to the inside of two venesta boards, which form the book covers. These boards were obtained from empty tea-chests etc., with some being stencilled Tea, Jam, Pork Pies etc. Day (the mechanic) was entrusted with the binding of the volumes, using old harness leather for the backstrip or spine upon which 'Aurora Australis' was stamped, with two penguins as a Trade mark. It is reported that about 100 copies were produced at Cape Royds of which none were sold. The original intention was to name the volume 'Antarctic Ice-Flowers'.
